

DAVID EDWARDS

Regarded as the best Trick Show Entertainer in the world. Those are not the words of David Edwards -but the view of the 'voice of golf' Peter Alliss.

David's show is unique - and he has performed it in some unique places, including the deck of the QE2 in the bay of St Andrew's.

A former European Tour player himself, David has developed into a master trickster after a career that took him to all the top European events - including the British Open. David can also add a unique element to any conference or event with his humorous commentary and impressions. His skills as a professional leave you in no doubt that his incredible talent for difficult and spectacular shots will inspire his audience.
