

Trish Lynch

Trish Lynch is a seasoned news anchor, reporter, and broadcaster with nearly two decades of international experience. She has covered a broad spectrum of industries including finance, the motor sector, healthcare, politics, travel, big pharma, technology, sustainability, and cybersecurity.

With years of live, on-camera experience delivering breaking news and high-impact reports, Trish is known for her clarity, composure, and commanding presence. These skills translate seamlessly to the conference stage, where she confidently leads complex conversations, moderates high-level panels, and keeps events running smoothly.

As a global moderator, Trish works across continents interviewing CEOs, hosting panels, and facilitating major conferences in fast-moving, high-pressure industries. She is trusted for her ability to rapidly master new subject matter, ask sharp and insightful questions, and guide discussions that are engaging, relevant, and impactful.

Trish brings insight, energy, charm, and gravitas to every event. Whether hosting a strategic roundtable, moderating a debate, or presenting an international awards ceremony, she combines professionalism, warmth, and authority in every moment.

Widely regarded as an exceptional interviewer, Trish is adept at handling unexpected challenges with calm precision. Her quick thinking and problem-solving skills make her a trusted choice for event planners seeking a reliable, polished, and adaptable host.

In addition to her work as a master of ceremonies, Trish is an accomplished public speaker and debater. Her clear, persuasive communication makes her an ideal moderator, commentator, or keynote speaker.

Every event is unique, and Trish approaches each one with care and intention. Whether you need an MC to steer proceedings flawlessly or a speaker to inform and inspire, Trish Lynch delivers with confidence and impact.
